PRODUCT/FIRM: Angel Line Bunk Beds with Angled Ladders by Longwood Forest

DESCRIPTION: The U.S. Consumer Product Safety

Commission and Angel Line, of Laurel Springs, New Jersey, are announcing the recall of about 39,900 bunk beds with angled ladders due to a serious entrapment and strangulation hazards to children. A 2-year-old boy from Columbus, Ohio died in May 2018 after he was found unresponsive in a gap in the bunk bed ladder. The metal hook fastening the ladder to the top bunk bed frame can move away or detach from the bed frame when the ladder is lifted and create a gap of more than 3.5 inches between the ladder step and bed frame. Children can get entrapped in that gap and strangle to death.

REMEDY: Consumers should immediately stop using the recalled bunk beds, block children's access to the bunk beds and contact Angel Line to receive a free repair kit with reinforcement brackets for the ladder. Consumers who paid for the bunk beds to be assembled when purchased will receive reimbursement for help with installing the repair kit if needed.

CONSUMER CONTACT: Consumers may contact Angel Line by phone at 844-542-0694 from 10:00 AM to 6:00 PM Monday through Friday; by email at repairkit@angelline.com; or online at <https://angelline.com>.
